

Trelleborg improves customer service in the UK with expanded warehousing operations for tyres

Trelleborg Wheel Systems expands its stock and warehousing operation in Lydney, Gloucestershire, England, to offer faster shipping across the UK.

Previously holding only Trelleborg's range of material handling and earthmover tyres, the site now houses the company's entire range of agricultural tyres, allowing Trelleborg to store twice as many products and offer immediate delivery on a wider variety than ever before.

Richard Lyons, Managing Director UK and ROI at Trelleborg Wheel Systems, comments: "Here in the UK, we've maintained our focus on the customers by improving our services, allowing them to receive their orders faster. By shipping all our products from one place, we ensure a streamlined process that means our customers receive the tyres they need as quickly and easily as possible."

In addition to warehousing, the Lydney site will continue its bespoke wheel manufacturing operations.
